

Austria U-Turns on Vaccine Passports

Austria is due to start phasing out its Covid restrictions on February 19th, with almost all going on March 5th, although the Government hasn't said whether it will now abandon plans to make vaccination mandatory, a law that was due to be enforced on March 15th. Reuters has more.

79

Austria will lift most of its remaining COVID-19 restrictions by March 5th, including scrapping an earlier closing time of midnight for bars and restaurants and allowing nightclubs to reopen, Chancellor Karl Nehammer said on Wednesday.

The Government said the steps were being taken cautiously with daily new infections hovering below their record peak and a manageable situation in hospitals due to the smaller incidence of severe cases in the latest wave of the coronavirus, dominated by the highly contagious Omicron variant.

The easing of curbs as Omicron has proven to be milder than earlier variants will deepen doubt about whether the Government will implement a recently enacted law making vaccination against COVID-19 compulsory – the first such measure in the European Union.

The law, due to be enforced from March 15th, has done little to raise one of the lowest vaccination rates in western Europe.

“On March 5th the bulk of the restrictions that so burden people will be lifted,” Nehammer told a news conference.

The Government recently announced that as of this Saturday unvaccinated people can return to restaurants and non-essential shops if they have been tested. Nehammer said such proof of testing, recovery or vaccination would also be scrapped and limits on the size of events would be lifted by March 5th.

It is up to Austria’s nine provinces to decide whether to retain tougher restrictions than those imposed by the federal Government, which the capital Vienna has generally done. Vienna has not allowed the unvaccinated to return to restaurants and the mayor was due to announce its position later on Wednesday.

The general requirement to enter Austria will be eased from proof of a booster jab to proof of vaccination, recovery or a recent test, Health Minister Wolfgang Mueckstein said.

On the vaccine mandate, a committee of experts on health and constitutional law that is to review its suitability will report to the Government before March 15th, Nehammer said, suggesting the measure could be done away with before fines are handed out.

According to Breitbart, not all restrictions will be lifted on March 5th.

Some rules will nevertheless remain in place, however, including the mandatory use of high-class FFP2 masks on public transport and in supermarkets.

The use of Covid certs will also be maintained with hospitals and nursing homes within the country, while entering Austria from abroad will also reportedly require either proof of vaccination, recovery, or a negative Covid test.

You can read the rest of the Breitbart report here.

The Archbishop of Canterbury starts rewriting his own role in the Covid-19 pandemic

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_p80y_xkdI

At Easter 2020, many churchgoers were shocked to be advised by the Archbishop of Canterbury, their spiritual leader, that churches were to be locked and forbidden to be entered even by clergy or to be used for private prayer. The Archbishop is now trying change history and deny that he was responsible for this terrible situation. History Debunked

I'd balk at “never”.

The wheels are coming off the COOFS-19 bandwagon, but the structures and principles are in place, and the vast majority of Western populations complied and lined up for the clot-shots, wore their muzzles, and didn't do more than grumble online or maybe wave a bit of damp cardboard at a rally.

When they release the next pandemic, expect it all to come back again, and this time harder, faster and deeper.

This mirrors the situation in Germany where restrictions except forced wearing of expensive throwaway masks and social distancing are to be lifted. The leader of the Green party is also on record for demanding mandatory vaccination in order to – who'd have guessed that – eradicate Sars-CoV2 (literally prevent another COVID-wave in autumn).

Unfortunately, this people haven't learned a thing. They just discovered that some of their shit is so seriously expensive that it cannot possibly be maintained.

I'm not sure but I think in your last sentence you are implying the rulers are stupid? The economy has got to crash at some point, and even if the trigger is war or a different virus or both, its flavour will surely have at least some SARSCoVy tones. It could happen tomorrow or it could happen after another round or two of lockup and huge SARSCoV spending followed by staged release. Personally I think it will be nearer to tomorrow than it will be to the end of 2023, but who really knows? The obedience conditioning advances.

Not this lady who basically looks like an upright walking sofa. She's addicted to the US left and international NGOs. And will thus simply parrot whatever either of both happens to be saying. Thus, COVID is a dreadful disease which can only barely held at bay by medical face masks until it was finally eradicated. And the way to achieve that is Vaccinate! Vaccinate! Vaccinate! everyone in circles until the miracle finally occurs. Or the sun burns out, whichever happens first.

All pandemics of germ control maniacs end, unfortunately, usually only after these have collaterally killed a lot of lesser people, by the people simply being unwilling to take it any longer.

I suppose it's like a former SNP member said about that party no longer containing real nationalists. The Green party are perhaps more interested in Marxism or some such than actual environmental issues (incidentally an alliance between the Scottish Green Party and the "it's our oil" SNP – the only major British party known for a slogan relating to the oil industry – strikes me as strange).

The (German) Greens were environmentalists in the 1980s. Nowadays, there's just another organization whose career politicians utilize to get from university politics into the real thing. Eg, they're very much in favour of huge tower blocks everywhere because these are so efficient for packing people densely together on limited space (and because property speculation is so lucrative, but that's obviously not explicitly stated).

This is far from over.

People need to distinguish between HIV and AIDS. HIV is an abbreviation for Human Immunodeficiency Virus. This is a fake virus that all evidence tells us simply doesn't exist. The people that claim it exists can't isolate it and show it, or any part thereof, under a microscope.

A German scientist was challenged about this lack of evidence, and he agreed that there was no physical proof to show this virus was real, but he said that it exists due to there being a scientific consensus that it does.

I kid you not. The Nazis left a very strong legacy in that country.

AIDS stands for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. AIDS is actually the symptoms that people supposedly infected with HIV display. The “Acquired” in the term denotes that the patient displaying these symptoms incurred them from being infected with HIV – therefore this patient is marked for life as carrying a very contagious and incurable virus.

One of the foremost pernicious effects of the COVID-19 gene therapies are that they damage people's immune systems. Of course, Big Pharma can't very well say that millions of people that took the gene therapies are now suffering from immune deficiency.

Hence, the fake HIV is being given a new lease of life. And, of course, there will be an endless supply of drugs on-hand to deal with this new and more virulent strain of this “virus”.

Do you know how they test people for HIV? It's unbelievable. They test for HIV by measuring the activity of the patient's immune system. So, if they test a malnourished person in the first stages of a common cold they'll find that certain aspects of their immune system have produced more antibodies than usual. This can be enough to diagnose this patient with AIDS.

Pregnant women, due to carrying a child, produce an abundance of antibodies, and this has led to many of them being falsely diagnosed with HIV. The toxic drugs they use to treat HIV are what really brings on the immune deficiency, or AIDS.

There's now a big push on to promote testing for HIV in the UK and worldwide. People will be told they are selfish if they don't trot in for a test. And, I suspect, a lot of people that took the gene therapies will be found to have immune deficiency. Or, as they'll be told, they are displaying AIDS symptoms which means they are infected with HIV.

When they told us a short time ago they were rolling back on mandates and instructed that COVID-19 could now be lived with, I wondered what their Plan B was. It seems a new and more virulent variant of the fake HIV is their Plan B.

Yeah, the Cabal aren't dumb like the millions of immunodeficiency injected sheep. Like good chess players, they always think a dozen moves ahead.

This is a good documentary to watch if you want to see first-hand accounts of how genocidal and corrupt the HIV/AIDS industry is. Pregnant women in Europe with nothing wrong with them being falsely told they have HIV, and being advised to abort their babies.

What they've been at is so open, so in your face, that I truly believe that we are no better than animals for putting up with it.

A little about the Cabal behind this. It's said they worship Satan. This fellow was known in biblical times as Prince of the Power of the Air. In other words, he can be construed as a nature god, or earth god.

The Cabal are actually big into nature, in so far that they totally believe that the fittest survive and the weak get eaten. Everywhere you look in nature, that's the way it is. There is no equality or equity in the natural world.

This is the anomaly for the sheep. The more the sheep accept the way the Cabal – through its lieutenants in Big Pharma and government – abuses them, the more the Cabal will see that they sheep are getting what they deserve.

Ask a lion on the plains of Africa, and he'd probably tell you the antelope are there for him to eat them. And until such time as the antelopes can offer a deterrence, the lion will keep on eating them.

The people that worship the Prince of the Power of the Air think like this lion.

Consumer spending is subject to seasonal variation, and one has to recall they allowed many people to be “freer” after lockdown in each of the last two summers, before they tightened the clamps later. Lots of money is spent in the summer on services which can’t be home-delivered.

My hunch is the French presidential election this year, the two rounds of which straddle Easter-Passover, could be spectacular. It’s already getting to be a right old bunfight with defections and, worse, with accusations of spying, making a British Tory stabfest look mild.

The big big word is “NATO”. That was also a big word, once upon a time, in the destabilisation of Italy.

Arbitrary rules and arbitrary decisions from a psychopath state, which only cares about seeming reasonable to fit in with an arbitrary covidian liberalisation across Europe.

If just one major country in Europe had said ‘no’ to all this, Florida style, how many lives, livelihoods, sanities, would have been saved, and how many tortures, would have been avoided?

But nobody had the balls to set the agenda for real sanity and truth. So it's a random merri-go-round of gaslighting and coercion, fear and hope, propaganda and manipulation, instead of accountability, consistency, and consultation.

From Mike Yeadon, more information on the toxicity problems with the mRNA vaxxines.

It seems that the longer the vax is kept, the more the mRNA degrades, and the less toxic the injection. Plus about 50% of the contents are uncharacterised – imperfect RNA proteins?

A short presentation on Team Enigma's latest findings, linking degraded mRNA & toxicity.

The more intact mRNA, the more toxic.

To me, not surprising, because spike protein is likely the toxic principle. Much evidence is circumstantial, such as fall-off in toxicity with time from manufacture & linkage time distance from the factory.

Notice the moving specification now accepting just 50% of mRNA being intact. No explanation of or requirements for the other 50%.

From a regulatory perspective, it can be anything. Any transcribed to protein? nobody knows.

More evidence in regulatory interactions & SEC disclosures that decision makers are well aware of the toxicity yet continue in their malfeasance. See what you think.

What is a directed-energy weapon?

A directed-energy weapon (DEW) is a ranged weapon that damages its target with highly focused energy, including lasers, microwaves, particle beams, and sound beams. Potential applications of this technology include weapons that target personnel, missiles, vehicles, and optical devices.

These weapons are currently being developed/used by the U.S., Russia, China, India, the U.K., Iran and Turkey.

The claim is that they are awesome because they are 'discreet' since "radiation does not generate sound and is invisible if outside the visible spectrum".

They can also be used in space and are cheap! Yay! Cheap weapons! In the above definition, I don't see anything about using this vicious dangerous technology on civilians who are peacefully protesting. Funny that.

Crikey, the Beeb (BBC, I know call me a traitor) have finally done it! declared an end to the pandemic. On Thursdays Question Time there was a packed audience, not a mask insight, the plastic dividers were gone, they had a decent panel (apart from Andy Burnham, who spoilt it by his continued ranting), there were some good questions and answers.

I shall miss the pantomime (theatre) by the audience of the mask of to talk, mask on to shut up routine which gave me a good laugh... Dare I watch their news.....

They over-reached and they know it. But the damage has been done; the Austrian Government still has the potential to turn it into a Fascist State.

They still haven't learned, have they?! The lesson also must be that trying to impose such draconian restrictions and laws against all normal morality and sensibilities (and 'the science') must, in future, have very much higher bars to cross, and be fully open to wide public debate and approval, not simply be the whim of a few despots in government.

"almost all" or "most" means diddly squat.

"The use of Covid certs will also be maintained with hospitals and nursing homes within the country, while entering Austria from abroad will also reportedly require either proof of vaccination, recovery, or a negative Covid test."

There you are. No change. Not really.
